COURSE DESCRIPTION

What does the Hebrew Bible (roughly equivalent to the Old Testament) have to say about gender and human sexuality? Using a variety of traditional historical-critical and contemporary ideological interpretive approaches, and through close analyses of key biblical texts, this course critically examines the Hebrew Bible with respect to a broad range of topics pertaining to gender and human sexuality, including: gender identity, sexual orientation, same-sex relationships, sexual desire, sex, marriage, procreation, (in)fertility, monogamy and polygyny, adultery, prostitution, rape and other forms of sexual violence against women, divorce, pornography, menstruation, abortion, incest, bestiality, and other topics. Furthermore, this course considers the Hebrew Bible’s reception history with respect to gender and sexuality, i.e., how different human communities—both past and present—have interpreted, appropriated, and deployed the biblical writings to prescribe culturally constructed norms of gender, sex, and family. In considering the social locations and sexual politics of both the biblical authors and the Hebrew Bible’s later interpreters, this course also seeks to prompt critical self-reflection on our own historical situatedness and culturally conditioned beliefs and attitudes regarding gender and human sexuality.

Please be advised: The narratives and stories that this course covers are some of the most challenging and disturbing in the biblical tradition and include sexually explicit material and adult themes.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

In addition to acquiring a critical density of knowledge regarding course content—including a basic familiarity with biblical literature and contemporary intellectual debates about gender and human sexuality—this course aims to develop intellectual and professional skills of broader application, such as:

- The intellectual skill of reading texts closely and thoughtfully
- Historical reasoning skills
- Analytical skills
- Problem-solving skills
- Reading and writing at an advanced level appropriate to a college or university setting
- The ability to participate in respectful and thoughtful dialogue
- The ability to reflect self-critically about one’s own culture and historical situatedness
• The ability to empathize with others and to be sensitive to differing perspectives
• The capacity to work collaboratively
• The theoretical knowledge and vocabulary needed to critically question and examine other bodies of knowledge

COURSE TEXTBOOKS

I also will provide free electronic copies/scans of other required primary/ancient and secondary/scholarly sources on Canvas (full bibliographical information is provided in the syllabus). These materials will be made available before the classes for which they are assigned, and students are expected to prepare each reading in advance of class. The course website may be accessed through http://elearning.ufl.edu.

Note: You must bring your Jewish Study Bible to every class session.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

In order to achieve the goals listed in the Course Objectives section, students are to prepare for each class by thoughtfully reading and analyzing assigned readings. Students are expected to prepare primary and secondary readings in advance of the class for which they are assigned. Besides lecture, a significant component of each class session includes student discussion based on the primary and secondary readings. Participation in class discussions is one crucial element of a student’s grade.

(1) A Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade worth 10% of the final grade will be assigned based on each student’s individual preparation, attendance, and personal participation in class. In assessing the Preparation/Attendance/Participation component of a student’s overall grade, I will consider such factors as: class attendance and absences, preparation of assigned readings before the class for which they are assigned, tardiness, quantity and quality of participation in class discussion, and student focus and engagement (e.g., cell phones are not to be used in class, side discussions among students are not appropriate, frequently leaving and reentering the classroom should be avoided, etc.).

Attendance is mandatory and will be taken at the beginning of every class. If a student misses more than half the class, either because of arriving late or leaving early, the student will be counted as absent. I will automatically deduct three points per absence from the student’s Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade, and one point for every time the student is tardy. If you expect to be absent from class for a pre-scheduled or University approved reason, please contact me beforehand as soon as possible. It is the student’s responsibility to obtain notes or handouts from any classes s/he/they miss. For further information on UF’s attendance policies, see: https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/.

(2) This class will have two exams, one Midterm Exam and one Final Exam, each worth 15% of the final grade (i.e., 30% total). For both the Midterm Exam and the Final Exam, students will be asked to respond to any two essay questions from a choice of four or five possible essay questions. The exams will cover material from the primary readings, scholarly readings, and class lectures and discussions. One week before each exam, I will provide online an extensive study guide with questions similar to the types of questions one should expect to find on the exams. Exams will cover material up to and including the last class before the exam. The Final Exam will cover only the second half of the semester.

The Midterm Exam will be taken in class on Wednesday, February 26, and the Final Exam will be taken during the Final Exam Period on Monday, April 27 from 10:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m. I will provide free Blue Books to students for the Midterm and Final Exams. You are responsible for bringing your own pen or pencil and writing legibly.

(3) Together, four Quizzes will comprise 40% of the final grade (i.e., each quiz is worth 10% of your final overall grade). Quizzes will consist of short answer, matching, true and false, and/or fill-in-the-blank questions. Quiz 1 will take place in class on Wednesday, January 22, Quiz 2 on Monday, February 10, Quiz 3 on Wednesday, March 18, and Quiz 4 on Friday, April 3.

(4) The Final Paper will be a six- to eight-page, thesis-driven research paper that accounts for the final 20% of your grade. This research paper will focus on one specific issue or topic relating to the course not addressed in class readings or discussion (or, if addressed in class readings and discussion, your Final Paper must go significantly beyond the readings and class discussion for that particular topic).

Topic: The topic of the Final Paper will be of the student’s choosing, but it must be cleared with me (see Final Paper Deadlines below). The topic must be sufficiently focused. You cannot write on a general category or broad area of study. For example, you may not write about “gender in Genesis.” However, one might write about gender dynamics in the Eden narrative. The Final Paper must have a focused base of primary/ancient evidence (textual, archaeological, epigraphic, iconographic, etc.), including some material from the Hebrew Bible, and it also must properly use—and appropriately cite—at least three vetted, peer-reviewed scholarly sources relevant to the issue at hand (internet sources do not count!). The Final Paper must offer a coherent, sustained argument regarding a specific approved topic, analyzing the relevant primary evidence, discussing the interpretive issues at stake, addressing the main controversies in the scholarly secondary literature, etc. Note: The Final Paper is not a summary of the scholarly literature and/or the primary sources. Do not simply summarize what the scholarly secondary sources have to say; rather, use the scholarly literature to advance your overall argument and analysis of the primary sources.

I will make myself available to help students find an appropriate research topic of interest, and I also will help to answer questions regarding research strategies and the choosing of primary and secondary materials.
Assessment: In assessing your Final Paper, I will consider such qualitative factors as: (1) demonstration of careful reading and observation of the primary evidence, noting small details and connecting them to larger questions raised by the project; (2) proposal of insightful conclusions supported both by specific evidence from the biblical texts and analytical reasoning (remember to cite your evidence!); (3) accounting for all relevant evidence in your conclusions, i.e., that you leave no major gaps in evidence; (4) clarity of writing on both the macro and micro levels; and (5) the proper use and citation of at least three relevant scholarly sources.

The Final Paper is due at the beginning of the last day of class, Wednesday, April 22. If you have any problems meeting this deadline, please talk with me as soon as possible. Any paper turned in late will be lowered by a third of a grade for every day that it is late (e.g., a B+ paper will be downgraded to a B- if it is two days late).

Writing Guidelines: The Final Paper must be typed, double spaced in Times New Roman 12-point font. Final Papers are to be submitted electronically via email as a Word document attachment (no Google docs). Margins are to be one inch. You must use page numbers. You do not need a front/title page (a title page will not count toward the total number of pages required for an assignment)—simply put your name and the title of your paper at the top of the first page. Sources always are to be cited using a standard citation style (e.g., Chicago, Turabian, APA, MLA, etc.). Whatever citation style you choose, be consistent. Use quotation marks when quoting a source verbatim, whether ancient or modern. Avoid long citations of ancient texts or modern scholars. Do not make assertions that you cannot support without direct evidence. Aim for a polished writing style (idiomatic, yet semi-formal): avoid contractions, slang or informal expressions, run-on sentences, switching between past and present tenses in the same sentence, passive voice, common verbs (try to use more descriptive, precise verbs), and the pronouns “you,” “we,” and “us.” Write clearly and concisely. Avoid unnecessarily long, complex sentences with numerous subordinate clauses. Clear written expression is one goal of this course. Remember to proofread and use your word processor’s grammar and spellcheck!

Helpful Reference Works:

How to Cite the Bible:

- Genesis 1:1 = Genesis, chapter 1, verse 1.
- Genesis 1–3 = Genesis, chapters 1 through 3.
- Genesis 1:1–11:32 = Genesis chapter 1, verse 1, through chapter 11, verse thirty-two.
- Genesis 1:1–2:4; 6:1–4 = Genesis chapter 1, verse 1, through chapter 2, verse 4; AND chapter 6, verse 1 through verse 4.

Additionally, scholars commonly abbreviate biblical books (e.g., Genesis = Gen; Isaiah = Isa; etc.). You can find a list of abbreviations in the front matter of the Jewish Study Bible (p. xix).
(5) Bonus Point: After assessing a student’s overall grade based on the Midterm and Final Exams, Quizzes, Final Paper, and Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade, I will add one point to each student’s final overall grade. There will be no curve in the class, and I will not add more than one point to each student’s final grade. Because of the addition of one point to each student’s final overall grade, grades will not be rounded up or down (e.g., if you get an 88.9 + 1 = 89.9, you will receive a B+ in the course—your grade will not be rounded up to a 90, i.e., an A-).

COURSE POLICIES AND SERVICES

Classroom Etiquette:

Active participation is expected and required for success in this course. Students are expected to pay attention and be respectful of others. Apart from laptops, which may be used for the sole purpose of taking notes (gaming or watching videos is not acceptable), please turn off all electronic devices, including cell phones. Texting during class is not permitted. Failure to adhere to classroom etiquette will negatively affect one’s Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade.

Gender-Inclusive Language:

Students should always use non-sexist, gender-inclusive language that respects and affirms the gender identities of all other participants in the course, including honoring others’ names and pronouns. Additionally, one’s written and oral communications should be as inclusive and expansive as possible with respect to sex, gender, race, ethnicity, age, and disability (e.g., “humanity” not “man”/“mankind,” etc.).

Academic Integrity:

You are required to abide by the Student Honor Code. Any violation of the academic integrity expected of you will result in a minimum academic sanction of a zero on the assignment. Any alleged violations of the Student Honor Code will result in a referral to Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. Please review the Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code at: https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/.

Academic Accommodations:

UF offers support and reasonable accommodations for students who have a diagnosed disability through the Disability Resource Center (DRC). Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. I encourage you to contact me as soon as possible if you have a learning disability and are in need of help. I am happy to work with you, the Dean of Students Office, and the DRC to arrange for appropriate accommodations to assist you in achieving academic success.

For additional information, please see: https://disability.ufl.edu/.

UF’s Writing Studio:

I especially encourage you to take advantage of UF’s Writing Studio. For more information about UF’s Writing Studio, located at 2215 Turlington Hall, or to book an appointment, please call (352) 846-1138 or visit https://writing.ufl.edu/writing-studio/.

Women’s Studies at UF:

Do you want to learn about issues of diversity, power, equity, and justice and gain the scholarly knowledge and skills to change the world? Adding the Women’s Studies major can deepen your critical thinking, analysis, and skills in intersectional feminist approaches to studying and transforming gender, race, class, sexualities, and other systems of power. The Women’s Studies major shows graduate schools and employers that you bring advanced knowledge and skills about diversity and equity issues. The 30-credit Women’s Studies major consists of four core courses and six electives. It’s simple to combine with another major, and up to 15 credits can double count with another degree (English, Psychology, and Sociology in particular have many courses that can double count). It’s also the perfect complement to pre-health studies. Contact undergraduate coordinator Dr. Alyssa Zucker (azucker@ufl.edu) to make an appointment to discuss adding the major, or drop in to her Spring 2020 office hours: Mondays 1–3 p.m. and Wednesdays 2–4 p.m. in Ustler 204.
