Course Description

This course offers a general academic introduction to Judaism as a religious tradition in its many historical and contemporary expressions. After preliminary classes introducing and defining the topic of study, the course will follow a roughly historical sequence from antiquity to the present, beginning with the Hebrew Bible and ancient Israel. Throughout the course, students will especially reflect on questions of identity and representation, such as: “What is Judaism?” and “How have Jewish communities variously defined Jewish identity in different social-historical and cultural contexts?” Specific areas of study will include: exile, Temple, Torah, early Jewish monotheism, apocalypticism, ancient Jewish sectarianism, the Dead Sea Scrolls, the origins of the synagogue, the Mishnah and Talmud, halakhah, gender and sexuality, medieval Jewish philosophy, poetry, and mysticism, the Haskalah, Jewish reform movements of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries CE, antisemitism, the Holocaust, and Zionism (among others). No prior background in the subject matter or academic study of Judaism is required or presupposed, nor is there a language requirement.

Course Objectives

In addition to acquiring a critical density of knowledge regarding course content (including such issues as the historical origins of Judaism, its religious commitments and practices, and some of Judaism’s most important intellectual, social, and political developments), this course aims to develop intellectual and professional skills of broader application that transcend the particular academic study of Judaism, such as:

- The intellectual skill of reading texts closely and thoughtfully
- Historical reasoning skills
- Analytical skills
- Problem-solving skills
- Reading and writing at an advanced level appropriate to a college or university setting
- The ability to participate in respectful and thoughtful dialogue
- The ability to reflect self-critically about one’s own culture and historical situatedness
- The ability to empathize with others and to be sensitive to differing perspectives
- The capacity to work collaboratively
- The theoretical knowledge and vocabulary needed to critically question and examine other bodies of knowledge
Course Textbooks

I also will provide electronic copies/scans of other required primary and secondary sources on Canvas (full bibliographical information is provided in the syllabus). These materials will be made available before the classes for which they are assigned, and students are expected to prepare each reading in advance of class. The course website may be accessed through http://elearning.ufl.edu.

Course Assignments and Grading

In order to achieve the goals listed in the Course Objectives section, students are to prepare for each class by thoughtfully reading and analyzing assigned readings. Students are expected to prepare primary/ancient and secondary/scholarly readings in advance of the class for which they are assigned. Besides lecture, a significant component of each class session includes student discussion based on the primary and secondary readings. Participation in class discussions is one crucial element of a student’s grade.

(1) A Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade worth 20% of the final grade will be assigned based on each student’s individual preparation, attendance, and personal participation in class. In assessing the Preparation/Attendance/Participation component of a student’s overall grade, I will consider such factors as: class attendance and absences, preparation of assigned readings before the class for which they are assigned, tardiness, quantity and quality of participation in class discussion, and student focus and engagement (e.g., cell phones are not to be used in class, side discussions among students are not appropriate, frequently leaving and reentering the classroom should be avoided, etc.).

Attendance is mandatory and will be taken at the beginning of every class. If a student misses more than half the class, either because of arriving late or leaving early, the student will be counted as absent. I will automatically deduct three points per absence from the student’s Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade, and one point for every time the student is tardy. If you expect to be absent from class for a pre-scheduled or University approved reason, please contact me beforehand as soon as possible. It is the student’s responsibility to obtain notes or handouts from any classes s/he/they miss. For further information on UF’s attendance policies, see: https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/.

(2) This class will have two exams, one Midterm Exam and one Final Exam, each worth 20% of the final grade (i.e., 40% total). For both the Midterm Exam and the Final Exam, students will be asked to respond to any two essay questions from a choice of four or five possible essay questions. The exams will cover material from the primary readings, scholarly readings, and class lectures and discussions. One week before each exam, I will provide online an extensive study guide with questions similar to the types of questions one should expect to find on the exams. Exams will cover material up to and including the last class before the exam. The Final Exam will cover only the second half of the semester.

The Midterm Exam will be taken in class on Monday, February 24, and the Final Exam will be taken during the Final Exam Period on Thursday, April 30 from 3:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m. I will provide free Blue Books to students for the Midterm and Final Exams. You are responsible for bringing your own pen or pencil and writing legibly.

(3) Together, four Quizzes will comprise 40% of the final grade (i.e., each quiz is worth 10% of your final overall grade). Quizzes will consist of short answer, matching, true and false, and/or fill-in-the-blank questions. Quiz 1 will take place in class on Wednesday, January 22, Quiz 2 on Monday, February 10, Quiz 3 on Wednesday, March 18, and Quiz 4 on Friday, April 3.

(4) Bonus Point: After assessing a student’s overall grade based on the Midterm and Final Exams, Quizzes, and the Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade, I will add one point to each student’s final overall grade. For example, a student who receives an 80 on her/his/their Midterm Exam, an 85 on the combined quizzes, an 85 on the Final Exam, and a 95 for her/his/their Preparation/Attendance/Participation grade (for a total of 345 points) would earn a grade of 86.25 (345/4 = 86.25), a B according to the grading scale (see just below). I will then add one extra point to the overall grade for a final grade of 87.25 (87 + 1), bumping the final grade to a B+. There will be no curve in the class, and I will not add more than one point to each student’s final grade. Because of the addition of one point to each student’s final overall grade, grades will not be rounded up or down (e.g., if you get an 88.9 + 1 = 89.9, you will receive a B+ in the course; your grade will not be rounded up to a 90, i.e., an A-).

Any alleged violations of the Student Honor Code will result in a referral to Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. Academic Accommodations:

UF offers support and reasonable accommodations for students who have a diagnosed disability through the Disability Resource Center (DRC). Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. I encourage you to contact me as soon as possible if you have a learning disability and are in need of help. I am happy to work with you, the Dean of Students Office, and the DRC to arrange for appropriate accommodations to assist you in achieving academic success.
