STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES: At the end of this course, students should be able to: Read Talmudic texts Read Aristotle's Rhetoric independentantly Recognize forms of arguments and fallacies and apply enthymemes and examples

REQUIRED READING MATERIALS:

Course packet

Aristotle, The Rhetoric. Here is a link to the translation that I use on Amazon: The Rhetoric You may use any translation but it must be a printed bound copy, not online.

Please be sure to register for the Canvas course and have any required materials with you in print or easily accessible electronic form in class. You are responsible for checking your Canvas page and the e-mail connected to the page on a regular basis for any class announcements or adjustments.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS AND GRADING EVALUATION:

Students will be evaluated based upon three in-class exams (40%), a final exam (30%), an essay (25%) and class attendance (5%).

CLASS ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Attendance in class is required. Attendance will be taken at each class meeting. Students are allowed 6 absences during the course of the semester before loss of credit. Students are responsible for ensuring that they are not recorded as absent if they come in late. A student who fails to meet the attendance requirement more than 12 times will be dropped from the course.

COMPLIANCE WITH UF HONOR CODE:

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Honor Code located here, UF Honor Code. The UF Honor Code also prohibits use of artificial intelligence, including, but not limited to, ChatGPT and Harvey, to assist in completing quizzes, exams, papers, or other assessments unless expressly authorized by the professor to do so.

D. Class Participation (5%) Students are expected to prepare for class and answer questions during class. Attendance taken.

OBSERVANCE OF RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS:

UF Law respects students' observance of religious holidays. Students, upon prior notification to their instructors, shall be excused from class or other scheduled academic activity to observe a religious holy day of their faith. Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence. Students shall not be penalized due to absence from class or other scheduled academic activity because of religious observances.

EXAM DELAYS AND ACCOMMODATIONS:

Students are expected to take exams as scheduled in class. In the event that a student will have an exam schedule conflict the student must arrange at least five days prior to the exam an alternate exam date with the instructor. In the event of an emergency that results in a student missing an exam, the student must notify the instructor within 48 hours of the missed exam date to arrange an alternate exam date. Failure to take the exam as scheduled or otherwise in compliance with this rule shall result in loss of credit.

STATEMENT RELATED TO ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES Students requesting accommodations for disabilities must first register with the Disability Resource Center (https://disability.ufl.edu/students/accommodations/). Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter, which must be presented to the instructor. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs as early as possible in the semester.

STUDENT COURSE EVALUATIONS

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and may complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students here.

RECORDINGS OF CLASS

All classes will be recorded via Mediasite in case students must miss class for health reasons. The Office of Student Affairs will work with faculty to determine when students may have access to these recordings, and the recordings will be password protected. It is the student's responsibility to contact the Office of Student Affairs as soon as possible after an absence.
